ANCONA, ITALY

Situated in Italy's heel famous for its beaches, hill towns and fabulous food is an increasingly popular tourist destination. Commercial and administrative capital of Puglia, a university town and southern Italy's second city, Bari has its fair share of interest. Bari's rich cosmopolitan past embracing Byzantine, Norman, Arabic, Angevin and Pisan culture is reflected in the city's glorious architecture, especially the remarkable 12th-century basilica dedicated to the city's patron, Saint Nicholas.

DUBROVNIK, CROATIA

Founded 1300 years ago by refugees from Epidaurus, Greece, medieval Dubrovnik (Ragusa) was the most important independent city state on the Adriatic after Venice, Italy. Until the Napoleonic invasion of 1806, it remained an independent republic of merchants and sailors. Like Venice, Dubrovnik has lived mostly from tourism until recent years. Stari Grad, the perfectly preserved old town, is in excellent condition and today prevent invasion by automobiles. Within the walls, the lovely sleek lines of Venetian-style buildings complement a wealth of ancient stone architecture.

MYKONOS, GREECE

Mykonos (Mikonos) is the most cosmopolitan island in Greece, where people from all walks of life and different cultures meet to create an upbeat atmosphere that is expressed by unprecedented exuberance and liveliness. Myriads of vacationers spend their holidays in Mykonos

Greece, as it is a favorite of celebrities and simple folk alike. Mykonos Island in Greece is particularly famous for its exciting nightlife, with countless bars and clubs that cater to both the straight and gay crowds. At the fantastic Mykonos beaches, visitors can spend the day lounging on soft sands, soaking up the sun's rays and dancing at beach bars.

SANTORINI, GREECE

The island of Santorini is perhaps the most breathtaking of all the Greek Islands. The town of Fira white-washed houses, narrow streets, open-air cafes and glittering boutiques cling to steep cliffs, accessible by cable-car or mule. To the south is Akrotiri where recent Minoan excavations support the theories that Santorini might be the fabled lost continent of Atlantis.

SPLIT, CROATIA

Split is a busy port with numerous ferries operating to and from nearby islands. It is also a popular resort with beaches and pleasant promenades. Venetian, Gothic and Renaissance houses and several medieval churches add architectural interest. A must-see is the old town within Diocletian's Palace.

VENICE, ITALY

Venice is possibly the world's most romantic city. Include visits to the majestic St. Mark's Square, Bridge of Sighs, an amazing gondola ride through the city of canals, and purchase famed Murano glassware.
